

CISM149 : Computer Hardware

This course is designed so students learn the concepts and techniques used by certified information technology professionals for supporting and troubleshooting computer hardware. Topics include but are not limited to working inside a computer, supporting processors and memory, supporting hard drives, installing and supporting storage devices, setting up a network, and satisfying customer needs.

Credits 4 Lab/Clinical/Field Study Hours 0 Lecture Hours 4

Prerequisites

CISM125 and CISM130 (both may be taken concurrently)